DINNER CLOSES EGG INSTITUTE, FIRST IN OHIO

Sidney Edwards, Chief Of 1939 Egg Expo, Is Speaker

OHIO IS FIRST IN HATCHERIES

Other Facts Concerning
Growing Industry
Are Revealed

At least 225 men and women attended the banquet of district poultrymen Wednesday night in the basement of the Methodist church, which successfully concluded the first egg institute ever held in the state of Ohio.

The Salem Egg Institute, which opened Tuesday morning in the Memorial building, was sponsored by the Northeastern Ohio Poultry association, with headquarters at Columbiana, and the Agricultural College Extension Service.

Sidney Edwards of Connecticut, managing director of the 7th World's Poultry Congress and Exposition to be held in Cleveland July 28 to Aug. 7, 1939, was principal speaker at the banquet.

Egg Men Eat Turkey

The egg men ate turkey, close kin of the chicken, heard short talks by several outstanding district poultrymen, enjoyed the humor of Toastmaster M. E. Wagoner of Kent University, and joined in group singing, led by the able Miss Addis Barthelme of Canton, Stark county, home demonstration agent.

P. E. Norton presided at the opening program and the grey-haired
"boy" quartet of Canfield sang several selections. J. V. Morris, Salem magician, performed tricks of magic in conclusion.

C. F. Moser, manager of the N.
O. Poultry association, in a short talk recalled the formation of the egg cooperative in June, 1934, when the several operators had only $15 among them to finance the organization.

The venture, he said, proved a success and at the end of the first 42 weeks the association had done business worth $102,700. "Today," he said, "we do that much business in three months."

Tells About Ohio

Although Speaker Edwards explained the plan of organization for the forth-coming world's poultry congress, he brought out a few interesting facts about Ohio as an egg and hatchery center.

Ohio, he said, ranks second in the nation in the number of dozens of eggs marketed and is first in the number of hatcheries. It is third among the other states in the value of chickens raised, fourth in the number of chickens raised annually, fifth in the value of eggs produced (Pennsylvania being first).

Justice McReynolds 76 Years Old Today

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Justice James Clark McReynolds, one of the two supreme court members whom the administration regards as "conservative," was 76 today.

Except for receipt of birthday messages, associates said, the anniversary passed unnoticed.

There has been much speculation that he would retire soon, but he has given no indication of his plans.

STREET PROJECT WILL EMPLOY 40

Lisbon Improvement Program Will Start In Near Future

LISBON, Feb. 3.—A maximum of 40 men will be employed on Lisbon's blanket street improvement program, authorized Wednesday when WPA officials at Washington announced a $39,834 grant to the village.

The government under the terms of the contract will pay the WPA workers and the village will provide materials. Money for the latter purpose will be derived from gas tax and license allocations and will require no special assessments.

The program is expected to continue over a period of at least a year, Mayor G. Cecil Rauch stated.
Under the provisions of blanket project regulations set up recently by WPA authorities, red tape formerly requiring authorization of each individual project is avoided.

The Lisbon program includes construction of gutters on 11 streets; installation of a storm sewer on Cherry st., from Pine to East High; dredging and straightening Mill Site creek from the fair grounds to Beaver creek; a sidewalk on the East side of Beaver st., from Chestnut to Market; installation of concrete curbing on Jackson st., and the widening of East Washington st., from Huston alley to Vine st.

The program will start when the county WPA office receives a release on the project from district headquarters in Akron.

County Residents Receive Tax Forms

Lisbon, Feb. 3.—Forms for tangible and intangible property tax returns will be mailed to 12,000 Columbiana county residents this week by Auditor John Irwin's office.

The forms must be filled in and returned not later than March 31
with the opening day fixed at Feb.
15. Payment must be made within 10 days following the expiration of the deadline. Failure to comply will result in the imposition of a 10 per cent penalty.

Failure to make a report at all will involve a 50 per cent penalty, the auditor stated. In the latter event the penalty and tax are assessed against the resident by the auditor's office.

Jewelry, stock, bonds and money are among the items to be included in the report.

District Police Plan Salem Rally

Members of the Salem police department will be hosts to other members of McKinley lodge No. 2, Fraternal Order of Police, at the police's regular meeting to be held here at 7:30 p. m. next Wednesday.

Chief Ralph Stoffer announced that the place for the meeting has not been selected. A lunch will be served.

TWO U.S. PLANES CRASH DURING SEA MANEUVERS

One Goes Down in Flames Seven in Crew Believed Dead

OTHER PLUNGES INTO THE OCEAN

Tragedy Occurs Just Off
Southern California
Coast

BULLETIN
(By Associated Press)
SAN PEDRO, Feb. 3.—A mid-air collision of two giant bombers—worst plant disaster in American naval history—claimed its eleventh life today as a search was made by air and sea for the missing bodies of ten airmen.
Rescued from the water after the bomber 11-P4 fell in a splintering impact last night, J. H. Hester, radioman first class of San Diego, died aboard the hospital ship Relief at San Clemente island this morning.

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Feb. 3.—
Two navy patrol bombers, flying through a sudden rain squall, collided within sight of the maneuvering United States fleet, off the southern California coast last night, killing at least seven of the 14 crewmen.
Admiral Claude C. Bloch radioed
The Associated Press early today that one bomber, the 11-P3, fell in flames. The other, the 11-P4, cracked up when it struck the sea.

Four Are Rescued

Four of the 11-P4's seven-man crew were rescued by a boat from the fleet flagship Pennsylvania, transferred to the U. S. S. Tennessee and rushed to the hospital ship Relief, lying in Pyramid cove at San Clemente island.

All seven of the flame-enveloped 11-P3's crew were believed certain to have perished.
Search for three possible survivors from the 11-P4 was begun by surface craft, several battleships and 20 destroyers, all of which witnessed the tragedy.

Airplanes were ordered to join the search at dawn.
The ten missing airmen, listed by the navy simply as "unaccounted for," were:

11-P3—Lieut. Elmer Glenn Cooper, commanding officer; Aviation Cadet Erwin John Koch, second pilot; Joe Earl Walton, aviation main-chist mate second class; Maurice Fitzmaurice, aviation chief machinist mate; George Gorgon Griffin, aviation machinist mate first class;
Julian Rawls, radioman second class; William Paul Landgreve, aviation machinist mate second class; 11-P4—Lieut. Carleton Barnore Hutchins, commanding officer;
John Gregory Neidzwecky, aviation machinist mate first class; Marion William Wehruff, aviation chief machinist mate.

One in Serious Condition
Of the four rescued men, J. H.
Hester, radioman first class, was not expected to live because of his critical injuries.

Woman Agent Tells Court Of Spy Plot

LONDON, Feb. 3.—A blond woman "British agent" told from the stand of Bow street court today how for nearly a year she had helped copy plans of Britain's most secret armaments smuggled from the secret "Woodchick" arsenal in combating an alleged spy plot.

A slim, black-clad girl identified only as "Miss X" testified against P. E. Glading, former arsenal employee, and three arsenal workers accused of duplicating blueprints of army, navy and air force weapons allegedly intended for delivery to an unnamed foreign power.

The four defendants arrested under the official secrets act, were remanded until Feb. 7 after "Miss X" had corroborated the prosecution's story of an alleged plot involving a mysterious couple from Moscow.
"Miss X" told how she had entered the war office's counter-espionage service in 1931, doing volunteer work in "The Friends of the Soviet Union."

Prosecutor G. B. McClure successfully opposed all bail for the defendants. He said there was evidence of "contact with a foreign power," and later that "a certain country would welcome them with open arms."

Canton, Massillon Fete Steel Chiefs

CANTON, Feb. 3.—More than 250 industrial leaders from Canton and Massillon last night attended a reception at the Brookside Country club, near here, for Carl W. Meyers, new manager of the Central Alloy Division of the Republic Steel Corp. and his assistant, Frank Farrell.

The testimonial dinner also served as a farewell party in honor of E. A. Portz, who recently retired as manager.

Representatives of "Small Business" Clamor For Floor

Richard Frankenstein • Homer Martin • William Munger • Jed Louck

Top—Department of commerce auditorium in Washington echoed the shouts of representatives of "small business" for recognition from the chair as the administration-sponsored conference got under way yesterday. Selection of Fred Roth of Cleveland, as chairman, met the vigorous objections of some who claimed he had been "hand-picked" by the administration.
Below—Leaders of the United Automobile Workers union, a CIO affiliate, are pictured on the steps of the White House after a conference with President Roosevelt in which they urged increased federal work-relief spending. COURT DEBATES WHEATLEY PLEA

Agrees To Consider Request For Rehearing
On Ouster

COLUMBUS, Feb. 3.—The Ohio
Supreme Court agreed today to consider whether to grant a rehearing to Robert S. Wheatley, who was denied office as Columbiana county surveyor because he was not a registered engineer at the time of his election in 1936.

There was a possibility that decision on whether to rehear the suit might be made next Wednesday.

Lloyd C. Kirk, incumbent surveyor, was defeated at the November, 1936, election, but the district court of appeals held that he was entitled to the office because Wheatley could not qualify. The supreme court upheld this ruling
Jan. 19.

Deputy Arrests Wellsville Man

Lisbon, Feb. 3.—George Karnes of Wellsville was lodged in the county jail Wednesday evening on charges of interfering with an officer in the performance of his duty and resisting arrest.

Karnes was taken into custody
Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Mike Duty when he interrupted a sheriff's sale at Wellsville which the deputy was conducting. The prisoner is reported to have heckled
the officer by shouting at him.

When the officer placed the man under arrest he is said to have struck Duty with his fist. The deputy was forced to use his black-jack in subduing the prisoner.

Pastors Of State Conclude Sessions

Columbus, Feb. 3.—Ohio pastors and church women entertaining final sessions of their convention today, had from O. E. Baker of the U. S. department of agriculture the assertion that "American farmers are slowly losing ownership of their land" through migration to the cities by farm youth.

"A large proportion of members of city churches come from rural districts or villages, and city churches owe a great deal to country churches for their existence," he said.

Washingtonville Robbery Reported

WASHINGTONVILLE, Feb. 3.— Burglars sometime Wednesday night broke into a service station here, operated by Louis C. Newton, and stole merchandise worth $125.

Deputy Sheriff Otto Stacey found no clues in the burglary, which was discovered this morning. Entrance to the station was gained through a side window.

Included in the loot were a radio valued at $40, a shotgun, motor oil, candy and tobacco. William Boston is owner of the place Newton manages.

"Little Fellows" Try To Agree On Business Program

Sift Hundreds of Proposals With Hope of Presenting Recommendations
To Roosevelt Today

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The administration's
"little business" conference adjourned in an uproar today, after voting a program of economic advice to President Roosevelt.

Two delegates forcibly were tossed out of Secretary Roper's commerce department auditorium, in a vain effort to quiet a feverish tumult, before Chairman Fred Roth of Cleveland, Ohio, pounded the gavel
the last time.

Despite shouted protests, the conference adopted reports of nine committees which recommended, among other things that the government supply financial aid by stimulating private credit.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The less talkative delegates to the administration's conference of "little business men" tried valiantly today to piece together an economic recovery program from the hundreds of proposals advanced by their colleagues.

They were working against time, for a committee was supposed to submit the recommendations to President Roosevelt at 3:30 p. m.

The task, however, didn't appear quite so helpless to the conferees as it did yesterday, when nearly all the business men were trying to tell each other at the same time what was wrong with the industrial situation.

CLOSING TIME TO BE ENFORCED

Stoffer Demands That Drinking Places
Observe Law

Chief of Police Ralph Stoffer issued strict orders to members of the police department late yesterday, calling for rigid enforcement of laws governing the opening and closing of beer and liquor establishments in the city.

Complaints Listed

The action was taken, the chief said, because numerous complaints of violations of the closing hours had come to the department's attention. The complaints, he said were filed by the public in general.

The majority of the drink emporiums in the city have been staying open too late, it was indicated.

The night patrolmen have been instructed to arrest all persons found violating the city's closing ordinance, which stipulates a midnight closing hour for all establishments. The measure also requires that the places shall not open on the following mornings before 6.

All the salient points are covered in the city's liquor ordinance, including the ban on sale of beer and liquor to minors and the provision that all drinking establishments be properly licensed.

Police last night gave verbal warnings to operators of the beer and liquor establishments, notifying them that they must close promptly at midnight, not a half hour later.

Stoffer's Orders

Chief Stoffer's order to all policemen is:
"It is your duty to see that all laws and regulations pertaining to the sale of intoxicating liquor and 32 beer are enforced."

"You will see that the places selling 32 beer and wines are closed at the proper time and not opened before the regular time."

To the officers working "shift
No. 5" at night, he said:
"You must visit all places selling beer and intoxicating liquor and see that the closing hour is observed likewise 32 beer. Arrests must be made where violations occur."

"Written reports of all places visited must be turned in to me."

IMAGINE IT

Accidental deaths claimed 106,000 American lives in 1937, but imagine—

Almost 130,000,000 persons, nearly all of them moving about for two-thirds of each day, riding in automobiles, airplanes, subways, elevators, trains, buses and on scooters and skates;

Dodging each other, dodging trucks, walking on ice, floundering about in water, eating everything under the sun, trying to do everything which seems like a good idea at the time;

Wrestling with temptation and usually losing, fighting the devil in which says, "Go on, be a good sport and take a chance" (and usually losing), grabbing on to live wires, feeling for the top step in the dark, balancing giddily on stepladders;

Tripping, slipping, lurching, plunging, skidding, rolling, roaring and sneaking through a whole year with only 106,000 fatalities, about twice as many permanent injuries and only 9,400,000 temporary injuries.

When you stop to think about it, it's amazing. Insurance underwriters insist it's a great problem, of course, but where would they find any better risk than the average human being, who has learned to live in a complex world with far better than a thousand chances to one of finishing each year unscathed?

SLOW TO ANGER

Details of the strongest provocation to war—repeated demonstrations by warmakers that they are feeling their oats—continue to pile up. A British steamer is torpedoed in the Mediterranean by an "unidentified pirate." An air raid on Barcelona kills dozens of civilians, many of them children. Italian militiamen hear themselves praised for having written "pages of blood and glory in Libya, Ethiopia and Spain." Japan asserts its mastery in China with roughshod treatment of everybody who is not Japanese.

Cruelty and blood lust fan a kind of resentment and hatred in the hearts of their victims and sympathizers more terrible than anything which can be conceived by the military mind. For the military mind, with all its crudities, is professional in its approach to the question of mass murder. The non-professional mind is fanatical and vengeful in its approach. The thought of what will happen ultimately unless militarism ceases to take advantage of those who either are slow to anger or not equipped to fight is more terrifying by far than the inflammatory acts, themselves.

WHERE DID THEY GO?

In a long day's journey, right now, a close listener might not hear a single demand that the national budget be balanced.

This reversal, coming after so much strident talk, some of it official, about balancing the budget needs to be understood. Understanding it is not difficult.

The sequence of an inflationary policy is:

1. Inflation to get out of a depression.
2. Rising prices and artificial expansion of business.
3. Reaction to rising prices and artificial expansion of business.
4. Attacks on prices and business.
5. Loss of confidence and finally a business recession.
6. More inflation to cover up the headache caused by the first dose of inflation.

Where did the budget balancers go when they ceased to be heard from? Why they went from Step No. 2 in the sequence of inflationary policy to Step No. 5 and now are thinking seriously about taking Step No. 6.

ON ABOLISHING SOMETHING

It stands to reason that before anything can be abolished it must be in existence. Ohio is interested, therefore, when the national committeeman of its Democratic party, running for nomination as governor against Martin L. Davey, also a Democrat, promises to abolish if he's elected:

The ante for state employees.
The ante for businessmen who want to sell material to the state.

Operation of the state highway department as a "political battalion" for the group in charge of the state.

Maintenance of private and personal organizations within the party organization.

It's time for Charles Sawyer, who promises to abolish these things if he becomes governor of Ohio, and Mr. Davey, who is governor of Ohio now, to have their picture taken together again and let's see who's smiling.

THE STARS SAY:

For Friday, February 4

Planetary forces may make this day an unforgettable one. There may be dramatic, mysterious, even tragic events. Nevertheless, business, employment, finances, social and intimate affairs have definite aspects for progress and prosperity, and, whatever the situation, it may develop a great romance, adventure or worthwhile friendship.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of remarkable, extraordinary and memorable experiences, with the private, romantic, emotional or even physical life involved. It may bring contacts of a conspicuous influence on the affairs. But be careful to avoid physical mishaps or perils.

A child born on this day may have an extraordinary nature. While it may be profound, studious, dependable, gentle, gracious, emotional and mystical, it may also be robust, sturdy, adventurous and enterprising. It may rise to conspicuous heights in some unusual calling.

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, Feb. 3—Jerome Zerbe, a silken-voiced young man with a collar ad profile, has carved out a somewhat enviable metropolitan niche, snapping candid shots of the showy night club crowds. He is to "safe society" what Cecil Beaton is to the international set.

His field of action is El Morocco, which has the after-midnight popularity of the old Texas Guinan rookery, plus a bit of polish. There are waving white palms against a ceiling of Mediterranean blue twinkling with stars. Zerbe is responsible for the zebra decor of the wall seats.

He is capitalizing on the New York reaction to polite snubbing—even in pot-luck photography. He trains his camera on only the whopping spenders, the minked and silk-hatted hadjis of frivolity along with the inevitable sprinkle of magnificent heels. Hot polloi thus is in a twitch to be snapped.

Zerbe came to town from Cleveland almost stone broke and majored in rough going until he caught on with his pictures. Today all is changed. He has his duplex in the latest swash, a valet and a barn-like living room filled with art and book treasures. Done during a depression!

The recession has not yet cast adrift the personal stooges. Wherever Fannie Brice goes merry-making she takes along the owl-faced Roger Davis just for the laughs he provides—at least for her. The notorious Peppino is shared between Phil Plant and John Perona. Until his passing Steve Reardon, an ex-cop, often accompanied George M. Cohan on his more frivolous moments. But no one had so much fun with or made so much money out of stooges as the late Ted Healy. He often had a night out with his gang of rowdy harlequins, cuffing them about in the bars and night places just as he did on the stage. And enjoying it hugely.

Ted Healy had less of that quality dubbed "ham" than any performer I ever knew. He was—as his estate showed—not interested in the money side of acting nor in the fame that often accrues. He was a clown because it was fun and nothing else but a good time interested. He never used make-up and the clothes he wore on the stage were the same on the street. Yet he had his moments of arriere-pensee. Now and then people would recognize him wandering through the galleries and much of his $1750 a week salary went to buying beautiful flowers for those he admired. But he didn't want to be twitted about these sentimentalities. He preferred to be thought a shade on the tough side.

The new type of comedy has nothing of the hearty abandon and jovial roughage that characterized Ted Healy, Ed Wynn, W. C. Fields and other laugh makers. It is more labored and studious—the Stroud Twins and Oliver Wakefield, for instance. The effort is to puncture some person or institution in the manner of a Peter Arno cartoon without having the Arno riposte. Much is imitative of the English school of comedy. After all, there is still fun in the whack of the bladder and the zing of the slap-stick for those practitioners who know how to use them skillfully. Comedy doesn't need a full dress suit and a monocle.

Yet I wonder if I would roar today as I used to at Nat Willis with his ridiculous tramp outfit and blacked-out teeth. He had me on the edge of hysteria several times—especially when he would look about furtively, edge over slowly, talking swiftly all the while, and reach down for what seemed a lost coin. And then in utter disgust quickly wipe his fingers on his trouser leg.

New State of Eire Faces Grave Problem.

Prime Minister Eamon De Valera

Ulster parliament building at Belfast

Eire parliament building at Dublin

Grave economic problems face the new state of Eire, headed by Prime Minister Eamon De Valera. Replacing the old Irish Free State, the new Eire government is patterned after that of the United States. Complete "isolation" from England has resulted in a sharp export decrease. The problem of gaining economic self-sufficiency will cause many headaches in the Dublin parliament. The six northern counties of Ulster, with their capital at Belfast, retain close ties to England.

LEPROSY

TAKING THE world as a whole, it is probable that of all the diseases afflicting mankind leprosy is the most dreaded.

Students of the Bible and of history have learned how the ancients suffered in body and mind because of the disease or the fear of it. Consequently, the mere mention of leprosy brings to mind the thought that the fingers, the toes and even the hands and feet may fall off.

Leprosy has been known for so many centuries that everybody knows about it. No wonder it has been the dreaded scourge of all mankind.

Little scientific value was known about this disease until 1871. Then the micro-organism or germ responsible for it was discovered and named the "bacillus leproa."

Affects Skin, Nerves
Leprosy affects the skin and nerves of the victim. Marked and often hideous mutilations of the body occur. But the horrible and disfiguring form of the disease is not so common as it was in former years. This advance is traced to our increased knowledge of leprosy.

It is now known that the disease is curable in certain stages. Indeed, many cures have been obtained. This favorable state of affairs is quite different from the situation of only a quarter of a century ago.

A number of drugs have been helpful. Recently the administration of certain dyes, like Trepan blue, for example, has been useful in some cases. Unfortunately, relapses often occur after this treatment. Better results have been claimed from the use of another dye called fluorescein. In 10 per cent of the cases of leprosy, recovery has been accomplished by the use of chaulmoogra oil.

Early Treatment Urged
Of course, entirely dependable results from treatment are not yet available. Until this desirable end has been accomplished, it is the duty of society in general to help leprosy to as great comfort as possible, by affording scientific medical care.

Not every case is one demanding quarantine. But when the patient is sent to a leper colony, he is not admitted there as a hopeless outcast, but in the hope and expectation that he will be cured and returned to his home and community. All these colonies are equipped with modern laboratories and clinics essential to the very best treatment of the disease.

The disease does not always present the horrible and classical picture of leprosy. The disfigurement of the skin may be hardly noticeable. But, to give the benefit of the most hopeful results, it is of the utmost importance that the condition be recognized as early as possible.

Answers to Health Queries

H. F. Q.—What are liver spots and how can they be eradicated?

A—Liver spots usually indicate faulty elimination. Correct the underlying cause of the trouble first of all. For full particulars, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Dr. Copeland is glad to answer inquiries from readers who send an addressed, stamped envelope with their questions. Address all letters to Dr. Copeland, New York City.

Perseverance

ST. LOUIS—Two policemen were trying to question a prisoner. Shaking his head and waving his arms, he repeatedly showed them a card reading "I am deaf and dumb."

They persisted and then the prisoner bursted: "Can't you guys take a fellow at his word?"
He was booked.

Seven Are Missing In Pacific Storm

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3.—Seven men were missing today, possibly frozen, as a prolonged storm brought additional snow, rain and flood threats to northern and central California.

Two search parties sought the missing men in the snow piled butt valley wilderness of California's Sierra Nevada range.

Two of the men left Prattville Monday night to repair a power line. The other five are members of a snowplow crew, missing near Caribou, Plumas county.

Why Men Leave

St. Louis—It was a man's voice on the telephone pleading with Deputy Sheriff Charles Colesworth, "won't you please come out here and change the baby?"

"Sorry, but the baby department is closed," said Colesworth. "Then I'd like to have you for a witness in a divorce suit I'm going to file," the voice said.

fifth from the standpoint of having the most chickens over three months old.

He pointed out that Ohio is first in the way of hatching capacity. Ohio likewise being the leading state for incubator manufacturers.

Edwards explained that the future success of the cooperative organizations depends on the ability of the managers to show the farmer how he can benefit therefrom. The cooperatives, he said, born out of necessity, have been a success.

Seek Financial Aid
The several hundred persons present last night approved their committee's resolution appealing to the state senators and representatives for whole-hearted support in sponsoring a bill now before the legislature which would appropriate $50,000 to aid in financing the Cleveland egg exposition next year.

Sixty nations will be represented in the exhibit. Director Edwards explained, 30 nations having displays. It will be the largest live bird exhibit as well as the largest general agricultural gathering in the United States.

There is more money involved in the poultry industry in America than in all the other nations put together, he concluded. "There are more farmers in the United States in poultry raising than any other branch of agriculture."

TWO U.S. PLANES CRASH AT SEA

Ten Killed or Missing in Accident During Maneuvers

D. B. McKay, aviation chief machinist mate, suffered a broken leg. V. O. Hatfield, aviation chief machinist mate, also sustained a broken leg and cuts. L. S. Carpenter, aviation machinist mate second class, had a broken arm.

The four all resided in San Diego. Their escape in the shattering plunge of the 11-P4 was almost miraculous. Giant searchlights from the warships spotted them in the water and they were quickly picked up by one of the small boats which sped to the scene.

The collision occurred at 11:37 p. m., directly south of San Clemente island as the full might of the United States fleet went through swift tactical exercises under simulated conditions of war.

A "radio silence" imposed upon the fleet was broken to send news of the accident.

Of Tested Type
The planes were of the same type as those which have made many long distance mass flights without accident. The latest exploit was Jan. 19, when 18 of the big flying boats flew 2,570 miles from San Diego to Honolulu in 20 hours and 30 minutes. They gathered in formation for the record-breaking flight over Point Loma.

The two planes had taken off yesterday morning from the air base at San Diego to join the war game.

It was the third major American naval plane disaster of the year and the second disastrous naval crash off southern California within a month. Twenty-four men were lost in the three crashes.

Approximately 40,000 men and about 100 surface craft are engaged in the tactical maneuvers which virtually emptied San Diego harbor of its warcraft early this week.

Chicago Becomes Methodism Capital

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—Chicago became the capital of Methodism today when bishops and laymen, ministers and executives assembled amid jubilation over the forthcoming union of the church's three divided house.

Bishop Ernest Lynn Waldorf of Chicago said "the world range of religion's stake in modern civilization" would be discussed during the three day meeting of the United Methodist council on the future of faith and service.

The council represented 8,000,000 communicants and 12,000,000 additional adherents of the Methodist Episcopal church, Methodist Epis-

Still Coughing?

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefit obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of these gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

BRITAIN FORMS BLIMP DEFENSE

Recruiting of 5,000 Men For Barrage Work Starts Soon

(United Press) LONDON — Recruiting of 10 balloon barrage squadrons of 500 men each, designed to protect London against enemy air raids, will begin this spring. With the exception of those physically unfit for ordinary military duties, only men past 38 will be accepted for service. Officers will be drawn from personnel at least 32 years old.

Thus younger, fitter men are saved for active service in the field. The balloon barrage men will not have any marching or personal encounters to contend with, as would the ordinary soldier, and food and shelter should always be available. But they must be able to withstand the rigors of weather while on duty in the open air with balloon barrage mobile units, as most of the units will be.

Equipment Nearly Complete The balloon barrage for London is almost completed as far as balloons and equipment are concerned. Similar protection for provincial cities may follow in time. The balloons are hydrogen-filled. They are attached to winches mounted on trucks and can be quickly hauled up and down. They would be moved frequently, depending on condition of wind and weather. An enemy would never know from day to day where to expect them.

They cannot be seen at night or in poor visibility, in just such conditions as enemy raids might be expected. An airplane would be wrecked should it touch the steel cable by which the balloon is tethered. The balloon barrage scheme of defense has one serious shortcoming. The modern bomber can carry a bomb load to 25,000 feet; the balloon barrage cannot yet be raised to this height. It is hoped that, as the plan is developed, this handicap will be overcome.

Ceiling Above 10,000 Feet. In the meantime, the balloon barrage can force enemy bombers to fly above 10,000 feet, which is well over the cover which cloud, fog or murky conditions might afford. Thus the way is cleared for fast defending fighters, which operate with great difficulty in conditions of restricted visibility.

The line of balloons with their knife-like cables can also prevent low-flying bombing attacks, the type of attack against which anti-aircraft batteries are almost helpless.

If a method is perfected whereby the balloon barrage can be raised to the "ceiling" of bombing planes, it may revolutionize ideas of air defense. Even in its present stage of development it is considered sufficiently valuable to form one of London's principal defenses against air attack.

"I OFTEN invest $2500 a week in tobacco—$2500 of my own hard-earned cash," says Mr. Barnes. "So you can see that the only way I've stayed in business 10 years is to know tobacco."

"Now I know Lucky Strike tobacco and it's top-grade. That's why I've smoked Luckies for eight years now."

"Lots of other independent buyers, auctioneers, and warehousemen I know smoke Luckies for the same reason."

Yes, sworn records show that, among independent tobacco experts like Mr. Barnes, Luckies have over twice as many exclusive smokers as have all the other cigarettes combined.

Differ On Naming Of Juliana's Baby

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands, Feb. 3. — A difference between Queen Wilhelmina and her son-in-law, Prince Bernhard, over the naming of Crown Princess Juliana's new baby, Princess Beatrix Wilhelmina Armand, was disclosed today. Reliable sources said Wilhelmina consented to the name Beatrix, which never before had been used by the House of Orange, only on condition that the child become Queen Wilhelmina if she should ascend to the throne.

The baby, born Monday, is next to her mother in the line of succession.

Jane Withers and Stuart Erwin appearing in "Checkers" at the State Friday and Saturday.

"Checkers", a comedy revolving around an injured race horse and its friends, has Jane Withers in the title role. The picture will be seen Friday and Saturday at the State.

Grace Moore, Melvyn Douglas and Stuart Erwin will be seen for the last time tonight at the State in "I'll Take Romance".

Horse Breaks Leg
When Stuart runs "Blue Skies" in a claiming race Harrington puffs in a claim. At the finish line the horse stumbles, breaks a leg, and throws Marvin. Harrington orders "Blue Skies" shot, but Jane makes Stuart return the claiming purse to get the horse back.

Reunited, the trio goes to Una Merkel's farm. Stuart has been courting her for seven years without success, for she disapproves of horse racing. At the farm they find Andrew Tombs, local banker, Stuart's rival for Una's affections.

Stuart gets a job on the farm and Jane and Marvin begin school. Marvin gets a part-time job in Tombs' bank and falls for the banker's niece. Meanwhile the horse's leg has mended and Una insists the animal be sold at once. Stuart is desperate. It looks as though Una will marry Tombs.

Marvin is interested in the niece, and they may lose "Blue Skies." By a ruse Stuart gets Tombs to reveal the ulterior motive in his courtship, but the same ruse gets Una into financial difficulties.

Stuart is forced to race "Blue Skies" in order to save the farm, although Una doesn't know this and quarrels because of it. But further difficulties beset Jane and her pal before the horse finally can be entered in the race.

The rousing finish of the race results in a romantic finish to the story.

At the Grand
At the Grand Friday and Saturday is a Zane Grey story, "Born to the West" with John Wayne in the leading role. The story concerns a happy-go-lucky, roaming cowboy who drifts in a cow town where his cousin, John Mack Brown, is the big power. Brown offers to give Wayne a job but the latter refuses—until he sees Marsha Hunt, and decides to hang around. In order to win the girl it becomes necessary for him to break up a rustlers' band, expose a gang of crooked gamblers, head a cattle drive through dangerous country and to prove to Miss Hunt that he's a better man than his cousin.

"Lives of a Bengal Lancer", featuring Gary Cooper, Franchot Tone and Richard Cromwell concludes tonight at the Grand.

MILITARY ASKS TUBE TO SICILY

Army Strategists Consider Connection With Italy

(United Press)

ROME—A tunnel under the Straits of Messina to insure the safe and rapid transport of troops and material to Sicily in event of war is again being urged by military experts.

Just like the contemplated tunnels under the Straits of Gibraltar and the English Channel, the Messina tunnel idea is not a new one.

For years engineers have visualized a tunnel which would join the island with the mainland. Like many super-projects it was put away to collect dust and was forgotten.

Creation of the empire has revived talk of the tunnel. It is the military strategists who see it as one of the requisites for the defense of the state.

Sicily, to use the words of Premier Benito Mussolini in his Palermo speech, has become the geographical center of the empire. The island as such has become the principal stepping-off place for contact between the Mediterranean and the Atlantic.

The tunnel itself would reach a depth of 490 feet, giving it ample protection against the play of the treacherous Messina currents or the shift in the sandy and muddy bottoms which would be overlaid with a thick coat of concrete.

The tunnel would extend from Villa San Giovanni in Calabria to Sant'Agatha, a suburb of Messina. The project includes both rail and road traffic through the tunnel. New autostrades would be constructed to the tunnel mouths.

While the construction of such a tunnel would run into millions, military experts argue that its use in peace time alone would pay for its construction and maintenance.

Shelf of Land Exists
The tunnel under consideration would be about 7 miles in length, only 3 of which would be under the open sea. The deepest point of the channel where the tunnel would pass is 310 feet, although the sea-bottom to the left and right of the projected boring, slants down to a depth of more than 975 feet. It is explained that this shelf of land is a continuation of one of the Apennine ridges from the mainland to Sicily.

LIST PRIZES, SCHEDULE FOR BOWLING TOURNEY

Brown Works On Quakers Defense In Hope Of Halting Speedy Massillon Quint

Unexpected Record Entry Attracted To Annual City Handicap Tenpin Tourney

38 Teams to Compete In Five-Man Competition; Play In Tournament to Get Under Way at Grate Alleys Next Tuesday Night

The prize list and schedule for the annual City Handicap Tenpin tournament, which opens at the Grate Recreation alleys next week, was announced today by W. H. Juergens, secretary of the Salem Bowling association.

The tournament, which will be the largest in the history of Salem bowling, attracted an unexpected record number of entries including 38 five-man teams, 70 doubles teams and 115 singles contestants.

The entry is an increase of four five-man teams, 2 doubles teams and four singles contestants over last year's tournament. Given additional funds through the increased entry, the association, at a meeting at the Grate alleys last night, decided to increase the number of prizes in the five-man, doubles and all-events competition. The five-man prize list was boosted from six to eight awards, while the doubles was increased from seven to 10 prizes. The all-events prize list was increased from three awards to five.

In order to allow better distribution of prize money among more tournament contestants, association members voted to eliminate special prizes this year. The majority of the special prizes last year were won by bowlers, who also collected top money in other events. The total amount of money received from tournament entries was $222.50. Of this sum, 10 percent was voted to the association secretary for his work in arranging schedules and conducting tournament play. The remainder was turned into prize money, split according to the number of entries in each event.

The prize list is as follows: Five-man—1st, $25; 2nd, $15; 3rd, $10; 4th, $8; 5th, $7; 6th, $5; 7th, $4 and 8th, $3. Doubles—1st, $12; 2nd, $9; 3rd, $8; 4th, $7; 5th, $6; 6th, $5; 7th, $4; 8th, $3; 9th, $2; and 10th, $1. Singles—1st, $10; 2nd, $8; 3rd, $7; 4th, $6; 5th, $5; 6th, $4; 7th, $3; 8th, $2; and 9th, $1. All-events—1st, $30; 2nd, $25; 3rd, $20; 4th, $15; and 5th, $12. In addition to fixing the prize list, the association also passed on two rules regarding tournament play. One rule provides that in case of a tie for first place in any event, the tie must be rolled off. In case of a tie for any other place, the prize money will be split, it was decided.

The other ruling requires teams to change alleys after each game in each event of the tournament. This rule was passed in order to give bowlers an equal chance on all alleys and to forestall any complaints that teams or bowlers receive an advantage by rolling all games on one pair of alleys. Play in the tournament will get under way next Tuesday night with two teams rolling in the five-man event. On Wednesday night, the five-man competition will get in full swing with 12 teams bowling. The Thursday and Friday night schedule for the five-man event also calls for 12 teams to roll each night.

Doubles and singles will be rolled the following week, starting Monday, Feb. 14. Contestants will bowl their singles immediately following the doubles except in several cases where bowlers are entered in only one of these events. Three shifts will be used for five nights in conducting the doubles and singles competition.

The schedule for the tournament, with the alley on which teams and bowlers start their games listed in brackets appears elsewhere on this page.
